ILLINOIS PROPERTY TAXES

Illinois Property Tax History

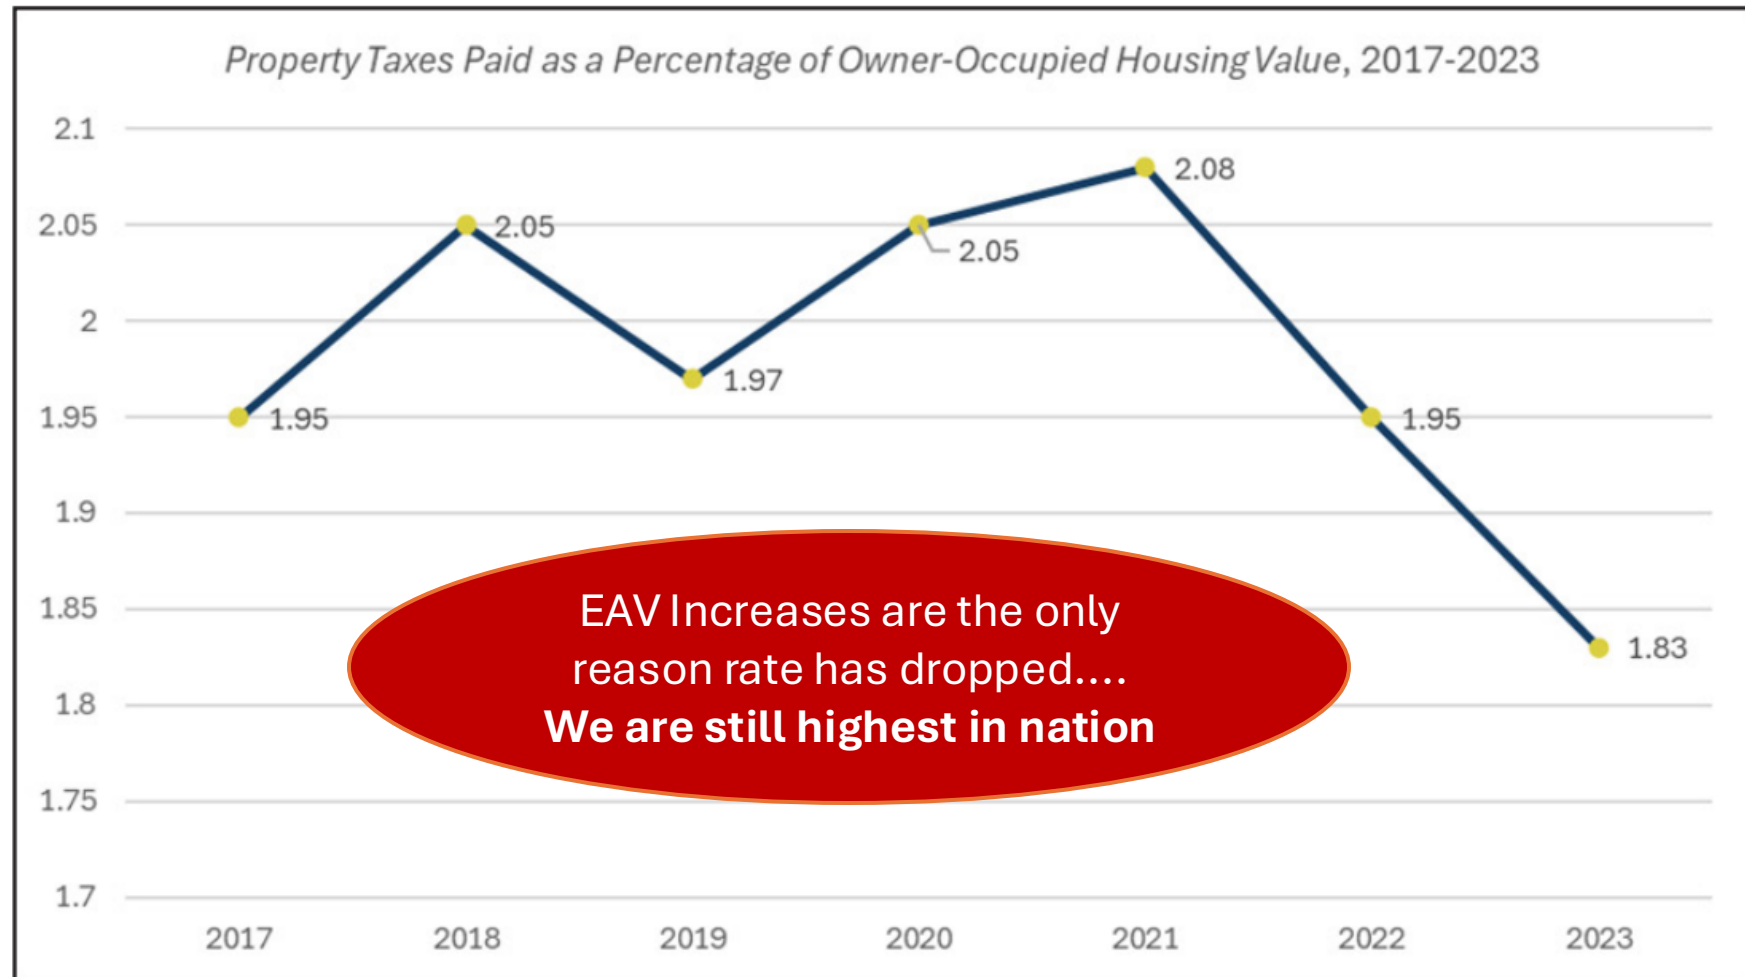

For decades, Illinois property taxes have been a topic debated throughout the state.

- Illinois has one of the highest property tax rates in the nation, with an effective rate of 1.83%.
- Property taxes are a top concern and a leading reason residents leave the state.
- Since 1982, five reports have analyzed Illinois property taxes, but little action has been taken to reduce rates.
- The Department of Revenue is conducting a sixth study, due July 2026.

Illinois Property Tax Rate

Source: The Tax Foundation. NOTE: While the rate has been going down, that is because home values are on the rise. As home values rise, taxing bodies have more EAV to spread their tax levies across, allowing them to get more tax revenue with a lower rate.

HISTORICAL UNITS OF LOCAL GOVERNMENT DATA

Property Tax Calculation

In many states, property taxes are based on a fixed percentage of property values.

FIXED PERCENTAGE?

IN.....

IL Property Tax Calculation

1

SET GOAL

Illinois sets tax rates to ensure predictable funding for local governments.

2

CALCULATION

County clerks compare each unit's levy with total taxable property value.

3

OUTCOME

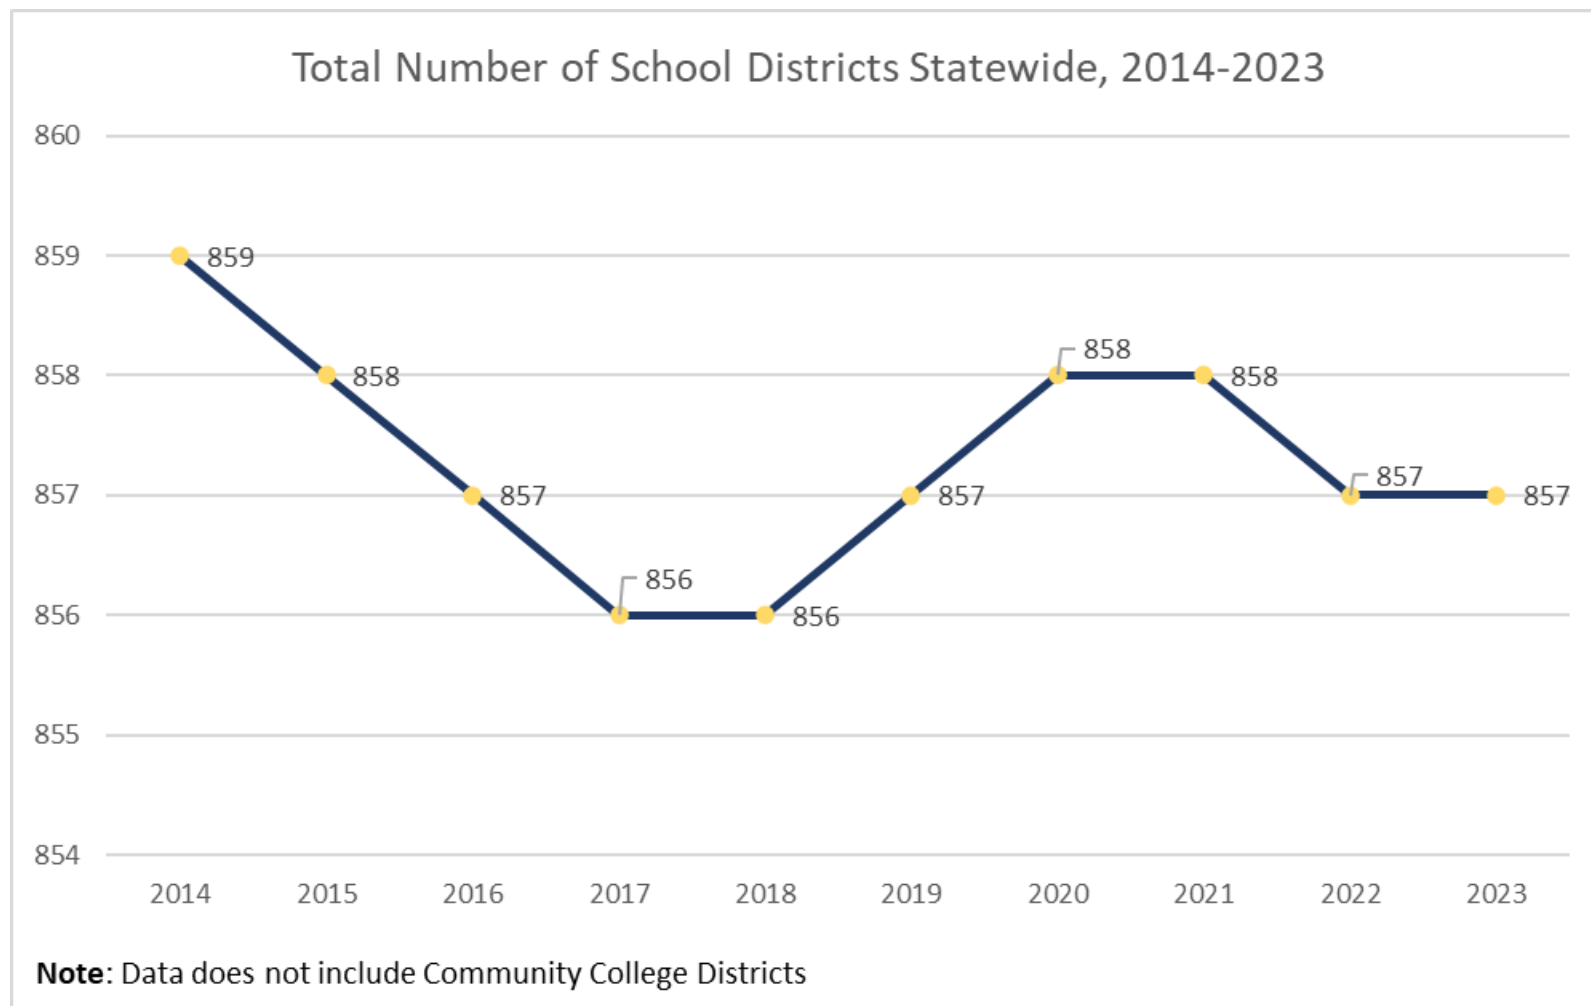

A tax rate is then established based on those assessed values.

A taxing body stating that they froze or lowered a rate does not mean that taxes were reduced.

According to the National Center for Education Statistics school districts includes alternative education programs, special education cooperatives, and other programs that are not considered by States as traditional elementary, high school, or unit school districts.

Which is why "Organizational Units" is the term that is being used instead of "School Districts".

Property Tax Exemptions

Total statewide property tax levy of $38.5 billion

- Exemptions reduce taxable base but shift costs to other taxpayers.
- When many properties are exempted, rates rise for remaining taxpayers.

"I've been living here for 40 years I should be exempted."

"Okay! You are exempted."

"But now we have to pay more?"
